

1/31/2007

Community of Grace Presbyterian Church

Building Confident Followers of Jesus Christ who Love God, Neighbor and self

In a BIG World

Think small (group)

Youth Commitment to Participate in a Small Group Connections (Fall/Winter Session)

Some COG youth activities are for anyone to attend whenever they choose. That is important because schedules are busy and interests vary.

These small groups take a little bit of a commitment. Commitment is valuable... you will get to know other Christians in a more real sense when you spend time together in a small group.

Please don't underestimate the importance of your presence. You may never see it, but your openness to others may offer someone the boost they need- and insight into what God is really about. Each person brings something unique that God can and wants to use – sometimes in surprising ways.

Yes... it means time, decision and choice. But with those comes an offer for real faith for real life. And your small group leaders are fully committed to you. That means creating a fun and welcoming place and agreeing to the same commitments.

God want us to know our real connection with God, and with others.
Make a difference. Make the Connection.

Please PRAY before you sign.

I COMMIT TO:

- Making this group a priority – attending all 6 or 8 gatherings in a Semester, if possible. (all groups meet on the 1st and 3rd Sunday from 6:00-7:30 pm at the VanDerWalts)
- Being myself, getting to know others and letting others get to know me
- Praying for my group members

Youth commitment signature: _____

Youth email (or phone number if no email): _____

Parent promise of encouragement/support: _____

*Parents: If transportation is a problem and you are interested in a carpool from COG, please list your phone number below and we will try to coordinate transportation support.

Phone: _____

Please return form (by 9/10/06) to: Community of Grace Attn: Lorrie Gaffney/Sunel VanDerWalt
2015 Newcastle
PO Box 902410
Sandy Utah 84090-2410